

BC Kodaly Society of Canada Presents:

Instrumental Fun For Elementary Classes

Presented by Alison Temple

A full day workshop on how to successfully use recorders and xylophones in the music class. Enjoy and learn as Alison takes you from beginner to advanced recorder, adding her own beautiful arrangements of recorder with melody bells and xylophones. Wind down with mat drumming in the afternoon!

Alison Temple has spent her career teaching music in Scotland, Saskatchewan, and BC. She currently teaches K-7 music in the Surrey school district. She directs touring student recorder ensembles, and writes much of their music. Alison likes to teach kids to be comfortable with interpreting a musical score, and so has developed strategies and has written music with this in mind. Her compositions, arrangements and accompaniments are artfully written and can be found in her recorder resource, "Recorder Through Repertoire" as well as "Tutti".

When: Friday April 23 9:00 am –2:30 pm

Where: McLaurin Building, University of Victoria

Victoria, BC

For Whom: K-7 elementary music specialists and classroom teachers who want to teach music!

Cost: includes snacks and lunch (and great company!)

Current members: $30

Non-member: $70 (includes membership in the BCKSC)

Student non-member: $30 includes membership in the BCKSC)

Student member : $10